CHAPTER ONE

ALL ALONE YET SURROUNDED

Sunday, July 28, 2013

“When you stop knowing what everything is for ... it becomes Magical again.” ~NTL Tidbit

5:34am - Didn't want to get out of bed the song "All I have to Give" by the Backstreet Boys was playing and the thought "Him" and hit the alarm and laid there ... the body is so sore and the tiredness was so heavy ... sleep was good it was a re-charge ... however for the first time in a very long time ... didn't want to get out of bed. Really didn't and for so long now there has been so much to get up for and today nothing ... just laid there and fell back asleep and dreamt about my Mom and we were in a house that was doing some kind of poor quality childcare and there were sick animals and asked her how she did in prison and she said it was really no big deal. My brother was there also. The kids were very good company, and liked me, and we played but it was a very dark house.

The alarm went off every  $\frac{1}{2}$  hour from 3 to 4:30am and again didn't get up for any of them but each time it went off could hear "Him" and thought of Him or rolled over and looked at His picture and wondered how is this man is in my life and yet completely not in my life. Yesterday while walking back from up the Mountain a glimpse was caught of a sign that had been there all along but just noticed again for the first time that HaroldTheAlligator had written with his finger “Joysters” on and then “Pete” (the dog) above it. It points to the Right going down hill and his name is on the other side that says “Babers” pointing to the Left, which goes towards MU (the home of MyTeacher, had lived there for three years while he lived up the street in another home that came to be called LMU or Little MU). Remember thinking, many times upon seeing that sign that one day there would be a going back down the Mountain. And that day has arrived. Looked at the relationship with HaroldTheAlligator and could not go back to that kind of living ... even though the love hasn't changed ... it just seems near impossible to live that way in a mentality where death looked like the only way out (not because of him, because of what we created in the marriage). Yes death has been used as a way out from many imagined situations. However, we didn't raise each other up ... we didn't enjoy our life together or didn't enjoy mine and right now even though there is depression ... something is very different and what is revealed is that even the depression now reveals; there is no “me.”

This is a very huge thing ... the hugest thing one can discover in this life and yes, when one says “my life,” they know when they are saying it ... it is a lie.

There are still many moments that it seems *I* am doing, it, especially when depression comes, for then it seems like there is something “I” fuct up on ... but glimpses remind and the reminders are too many now to ignore.

On The Way To Doe Bay

Have been waiting to write the Nothing To Learn Newsletter on Magic, and this morning it seemed as if there is none anywhere. It is amazing how quickly things can shift from Magic, everywhere to no where. It keeps coming up around a gentleman that has been dialoguing about some unresolved things from our past ... that somehow there would be a way shed some Light for him ... that if he is still holding resentments that tightly that somehow something gets in that loosens his grip. Maybe that will show up.

Keep looking at this commitment that was made with mySelf in regards to "Him" (fell in love with a person over the last year and we have spent some very intimate moments together - though he has stated that He does not feel the same). Recently, he was contacted by some of my "Friends" who scared Him even more and He pretty much said that "in this world" He doesn't like or care for me. However, yesterday there was a Call from the Heart that was answered by Him and now there is not that crazy running to and fro phase anymore. Would still go to Him ... if He put his hand out ... as scared as I am ... would go.

NOTHING TO LEARN AUGUST 2013 NEWSLETTER

Life is full of Magic. If the word makes you uncomfortable (take a look at why, if you will) but if it does you can insert the word "Miracle" or "Gifts." Magic is easily overlooked because we have come to think we know so much about everything. That we have all the answers or that the answers can be found instead of allowing for life to reveal to us in ways that we don't have to understand but are just awed by Magic shows up in simple and

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

big ways. Maybe you have experienced it, like when you are in the grocery store and your favorite song comes on. Or someone says something you were just thinking about. You meet someone that looks so familiar but cannot place where you know them from. You enter a room and have been in it before, but you don't recall when or where. You have a dream and then find yourself in the situation you dreamt about. Those are just a few examples of how Magic can appear in our lives. But you have your own examples of the things that surprise you and make you smile or sometimes they scare you. Like when you have too many coincidences and you do not know what to make of them yet the gift is in not making anything of them. You won't be scared if you can let things be and allow for them to show you why they are showing up. Since Magic is outside of time, it will not reveal itself in "your" time. You cannot sit there and demand for things to be revealed to you. Magic takes patience and an open mindedness. You cannot demand that a butterfly become one faster just because you want it to, you cannot demand that it come out of its cocoon and if you attempt to understand it by opening it up to see what is inside, you kill it. So Magic takes patience, kindness, and open mind, and a joy for the unexplained and if you can begin to, or continue to cultivate these natures in yourself, you will see more and more Magic all around you.

We also tend to write off magic too easily, the mind (thoughts) will come up with ways that discredit what we see and discover and especially if you share it with another that hasn't seen or experienced it. You sort of, especially in the beginning, have to keep the Magic to yourself. It is a Gift specifically for you or you

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

wouldn't have experienced it, so keep it as Sacred as you can. As you need less and less proof to Know it as "normal" way of life then you can begin to speak and share it, but don't expect that others will believe you. You aren't out to prove it to anyone, only to share, only to shed light on it for anyone else that might be ready or interested to hear about it.

You might want to write it down, it is easy to forget the Magic that we see, but when you write it down, you recall it more clearly and are not so quick to just write it off as some freak thing that happened. The more you can validate it for yourself, the more you experience it.

Magic is more clearly seen in the summer months so watch for it....Magic is what you call it...not anyone else. Maybe Lightening is Magic to you...or a Thunderstorm or the way the wind blows the trees, or the birds that suddenly come very close to you as they fly by or the Sunset or the Moon. Magic maybe that a long lost friend finds you or someone writes a book about a story you had been wanting to hear. No one can tell you what Magic is for you, but begin to pay attention for it. Begin to pay more attention to what is going on around you.

Share Magic with Children because they see it everywhere. As you begin to see it everywhere, you begin to be more child-like yourself. And that is Magic. Watch movies that spark Magic in you. Here are a few...

Xanadu

Photographing Fairies

Shrek (all of them)

Heaven Can Wait

Those are just a few, but there are plenty of movies to spark the Magic within you.

Spend the rest of this Summer paying attention to the things you haven't before. Stop and take a moment to pay attention to the fly that lands on your arm instead of quickly swatting it away, look in it's eyes, be curious about what you are looking at. Though it maybe an annoying creature to you, it is a work of Magic, just like you are.

New for this month.

8:02am - Just wrote the following on FaceBook to a man that once shared the same Teacher.

Joy Sters Been looking at this a few times cause it would be nice to have this load on both ends lightened. What came up in that moment is that maybe we are like dogs in a dog park that you just can't make get along ... some creatures just don't get on with other ones and that maybe the case with us. But it's worth a look to see if some air cannot be cleared. Do wonder how does it serve you to hold such

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

hostile beliefs about anything. Really am curious, am wondering the same about how you are seen from here. How does it serve to such ugly beliefs about you. So it is sort of like you are on one side of the glass saying, everything that this one loves, is ugly and here on this side the same is being said ... cept it is only you that is ugly. Actually don't have anything that that isn't liked about your life except you ... actually like your wife and cannot think of any other person that isn't liked ... so this is very odd because it is specifically you that isn't liked. That doesn't mean that there is a want to continue to dislike you and experience you this way, but at the moment it is how it is. So how to see you differently, when you seem to continuously reinforce these beliefs about you?

9:03am - Today's Tidbit. Just started working on BuzzTouch again to learn how to make Apps.

Sent the following to MyTeacher and TheLionAtTheGate:

On Jul 28, 2013, at 9:36 AM, Joysters (Yahoo!)

Hi Teacher and LionAtTheGate ... seems strange to be writing you. Only saw you last week but it seems light-years away now. It is kind of strange to send intimate things about this life while being sort of excluded from your life.

But strange things happen all the time ... still like to share

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

with you and don't like feeling so distant but it is what it is. Do hope you had a good Gathering ... am really glad TheDart got to go ... you have given me what would have been hoped for after death that he has Family that cares for him deeper than obligation of blood ... so it is sort of like seeing it from that perspective...especially seeing all you guys driving by including TheDart it was like being a ghost in the woods. Am not complaining ... just sharing how it was too see you guys. It wasn't bad it was just strange.

~Joysters (Peanut)

11:12am - Just read the Journal which was sent to MyTeacher and TheLionAtTheGate "All Alone Yet Surrounded," and while reading it the thought appeared 2 or 3 times "you proposed to Him on 7/28." Didn't think much about it until getting to the part about proposing to Him and it was dated 7/25 and was like "what day is it?" and looked on the computer and today is the 28th and that seemed so odd ... one; that there was no idea what day today is and two; the solid belief of proposing on July 28th (today).

11:57 - Just put this on Music Class under the section "women" :o) Recently watched a film about the life of Benazir Bhutto, who is quite a fascinating person, not only her, but her entire family and it reminded me they represent a sort of "Call For Change." Like when things get too dark in this world (in this instance for Pakistan; which it has been dark there for quite sometime, especially in this century, with the ability to make nuclear weapons (which oddly enough nuclear (new clear) weapons actually destroy with Light).

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

The Bhutto's are like the flower that grows out of the concrete. For anyone that is interested in watching a movie that shows that it does not matter what your gender, your culture, your religion, your beliefs are, that when change is due, it appears and not without a high price sometimes, the Bhutto family continued to give their life(s) to their vision of freedom and change, yet you can see that one person can do just about the impossible and continue it through those close to them; to begin to make that happen. Pakistan is a country to watch. Keep an eye on it during your studies in your lifetime to see the changes that this one Family created and the Legacy that will continue in that direction.

If you have the time and interest, this is a good movie to have under your belt. Again, it is just a story and you will walk away from it with your own story, your own history of what happened and you will continue it, as you watch it unfold in your lifetime.

Benazir Bhutto

Below are some comments that were jotted down while watching the movie ... many are spoilers so if you plan to watch it you might want to read it ...

After Meditation, I began watching the movie "Bhutto" about Benazir Bhutto and it is an amazing film about an incredible Family ... the love of a Father for his Daughter and that

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

when you are to rise, there truly is nothing to stop it... not race, not your gender; not anything ...

This is an incredible family. She spent 7 years in the worst part of a horrible prison in solitary confinement after they killed her father, during which time, she didn't speak for 7 years ... 7 years that is so long.

She really is a fascinating woman and she had an arranged marriage ... here is this brilliant Harvard/Oxford educated woman having an arranged marriage, but she said "my Mother picked him out ... but I fell in Love with him as if it was first sight." So sweet. He loved her very much, you can see how her husband speaks of her ... with Love. What an amazing person she is ... don't necessarily care that she is a woman, but it just goes to show that it doesn't matter if you are a woman. She was 35 when she became Prime Minister, not only the youngest one ever, but the first woman in a Country that doesn't seem to look highly on being a woman and she created so much Light for her country. What a beautiful person.

With regard to the assassination attempt one person said "it was like being showered with heavy rose pedals, except it was human flesh" :o(

12:05pm - Just received this from (a good Friend) ...

Hi Joy-

I shared our previous email correspondences. My wife and I talked it over; we don't think it is a good idea for a visit this time around and hope you understand.

Enjoy yourSelf and safe journeys,

Things like this used to hurt so much more ... meaning there is still the pang of rejection, but it doesn't cut so deep and it isn't personal ... This one doesn't come up as "personal" as things like this once did.

Wrote the following back:

Am not going to lie and say this isn't disappointing to hear. That you are not willing to take a chance. Don't mean take a chance with your marriage (though if you see me as a threat to your marriage that is certainly something to look at), am willing to take a chance in having truly a good friend in this world. A lifetime friend. Have envisioned that you both intended to spend your entire lives together. Am all for supporting that, not destroying it. The good news is that - I am here when you are ready.

The place is only 3 hours from your home so it is not a necessity to stay with you, just enjoy your company and we all seem to have similar things in common, which you don't always find in this world, and when you do it is good to strengthen them when they appear. Am asking that you we continue to get to know each other ... that doesn't mean that time has to be spent in your home ... but don't completely shut the door if you feel uncomfortable. Have been married here as well and do know what it is like to have women come into the home and share it and have also been uncomfortable at times about it but the more that one allows for that uncomfortableness the less uncomfortable and the less fears that are had about it - over time it was seen that the things that were feared - didn't happen.

Hopefully you guys will continue to speak openly about it and maybe walk through some of what comes up around it.

~Joysters

12:21pm - This might be an odd thing to report, but fuckit ... had to go to the bathroom and while walking remembered the Ben Wa Balls were in and could hear them and feel them moving inside ... shook around a bit and thought that is nice ... then took them out to go to the bathroom and realized that the pressure from needing to go to the bathroom was actually making them feel more intense and that led to thinking about sex and how good it will probably feel to have it with these in and then realized there might not ever be sex again and that was kind of a bummer. So the shaking around with them in continued and found it kind of hot that there might not ever be sex again ... that not having it makes it even hotter. That is kind of weird huh. Ultimately, it's hard to believe that we will not ever have sex again (which is the strangest thing in itself, cause He keeps swearing we won't, but then He does again). However, it is probably true that He won't and the title of this Chapter being "Never Ever" (which is what He said about Loving and seeing me (and He has seen me again

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

since saying that. :o) That all came up in Awareness while looking at no sex. Life keeps gifting things like these Balls they really are a Gift ... get to remember about sex (vividly), which makes it not something forgotten it actually makes everything more vibrant. There is more sexually vibrant energy now and am not even having sex. Another nice thing about being committed is that there is no thinking about how to get sex (well, except the thinking of how it will be gotten with Him) it is just not an option (with anyone else) so it shuts the mind up (well at least right now it is shut up ... sort of in a surrender mode of not getting any).

12:48pm - An odd thing happened yesterday and it keeps coming up so will write it down ... during the beginning of Meditation, a really good Tidbit came up to put up for today . . . actually noted it as a really good one . . . like was sitting there in Meditation and with the thought “that is really good” and was happy that it would be done for today. However, within minutes it was gone. Completely gone. It was baffling and the thought ... “well if it is meant to come back it will cause it didn’t come from here and don’t know where it went.” It hasn’t come back. Quite a few times yesterday during the day was scratching my head and wondering . . . “how can you forget something that good.” But it is forgotten and it came up again just now . . . just like how it is with the three Summer Newsletters series (last month it had come up to have a Summer series of Newsletter topics because what was pouring out was too much for just one Newsletter, however, by the time the next Newsletter was being created the ideas had been completely forgotten.) The ideas still haven't come back and two of the three Newsletters are now written. How funny, and yet so odd that one can forget something like that. However, you get to see in retrospect that you don't actually need to remember anything because everything works itself out. Something that seems so profound and yet it is so absolutely perfect, because all of this will eventually be wiped away. Nothing to remember . . . Nothing To Learn (NTL) :o)

Here is the only response that has been received about TLC (Ed. Note: TLC (The Love Caddy) is a Cadillac currently owned by the bank and payments made by the author.):

Wrote back "Huh?" but didn't ever hear from them again.

7:08pm - You know every time pot is smoked, which is not often, but just enough, it reveals time and again how much Love is here for Him (Ed. Note: The words "He," "Him," and "His" are used to protect *His* privacy) . . . that through smoking His stuff ... there is even more Love for Him ... it's not actually that there is more Love for Him, there is just more and more Love discovered, uncovered around Him. It is the same with MyTeacher (Ed. Note: "MyTeacher" is the author's Spiritual Teacher, that entered her life in physical form in 1999) yet different because MyTeacher is above Him. Above Him, in that there is no other in this life above MyTeacher. It is constantly revealed as such. If one looks in the world for proof, proof will be found in the direction one looks.

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

MyTeacher asked recently in an email to see what a past member of TheGroup (a person that once claimed MyTeacher as his Teacher) is on about regarding the Murder comment he had made on Facebook (was wondering the same thing). Wanted to do it with good clear-headed energy not Pot energy. Right now, it's good energy, however it seems appropriate just wait to respond to him because if any Light can get in on it for us, that would seem to be the priority over coming from attack mode, which he can bring up here . . . it's not the energy coming up to share with him. Ultimately, would really like for us all to see this differently . . . maybe it will be and maybe it won't, would like to like this man. Don't actually like that he is disliked . . . however, it just maybe the way it is. Will have to wait and see. Smoked in the Johnny on the spot in the Etna Cemetery after sitting with James David Bentley (Young Army Pvt. that died in Vietnam in 1970) for a bit. Had some tears about seeing Marma (our Enlightened Pet Chicken who died in July) running around and playing in the dirt and that is not ever going to happen in that form again. Marma was/is a Friend. A True Friend. Saw a bird tonight and could

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

communicate with it more deeply because of Marma, because of seeing the intelligence in her . . . the Awareness in her . . . she was so alive. Amazing. So go and smoke and the first song that comes on Frank Ocean Pandora was "Sex ain't better than Love." Paused it cause it was being heard as Him saying it (hope he doesn't ever read these Journals, if he did then He might really think this one is nutz ... if He doesn't feel that way towards me ... but it is so good to think that He might.) Sex is so good with Him it's a million times better than ever . . . but not better than Love.

Got back to the apartment and started dancing for Him and all these good songs were coming up on His "Frank Ocean" Pandora station, he sang "Thinking of You" to me in His bedroom, no one had ever sung to me before. Took off my clothes down to my bra and underwear and looked in the mirror and was like . . . damn - looking good . . . took some pictures and kept thinking about dancing for Him and it makes me smile so big, just like now. Get to see that there is just this Love for Him and it doesn't have to be returned, but it is being returned in ways that could not have ever been imagined . . . and through His smoke, am remind how close.

Smoking Pot is like a good glass of wine, with deeper insights and no hang over.

Got an email back from my BabyBuddha's wife - she wants to know when there would be a heading their way (for the trip to Doe Bay). Don't want to email high so will wait.

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

Had a really good night and am so glad for the smoke. Am about to watch "Cries and Whispers" which is an Ingmar Bergman film, which won all kinds of awards and thought "everything that is good this life is here because of MyTeacher." That is really nice when you see those things. Love Ingmar Bergman.

CHAPTER TWO

CONFLICT & DRAMA
Monday, July 29, 2013

“Life is Playing a game with itSelf and everything needed to play shows up.”

~NTL Tidbit (July 29th)

3:19am - Woke up hearing a song, which am currently not remembering the name of, but it was really good and was thinking of Him. Sort of fell back asleep and woke again to “OMG,” Usher. What a really nice night last night. Am not ever disappointed in smoking His smoke. Don’t know what he puts into it ... Love lots of Love it seems, cause that is what it is like when smoked ... like Love is everywhere. Started watching “Cries and Whispers,” geez Bergman picks the most amazing people to act his parts . . . the faces they make and the story is so intense and the costumes are fabulous. He really is a unique man. Started masturbating last night while still high (the thoughts of Him were so intense) and it was like He is there ... which even last night it was seen ... how amazing it is to have someone to fantasize about That there has not ever been someone that just shows up in the mind so vividly and just get so excited over . . . like really excited over, whether it has anything to do with these Ben Wa Balls which have seemed to heightened the excitement. The orgasm last night was like no

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

other time before and it wasn't that it was better than other times (cause there was that time where it shattered the world with Light) but this one wasn't like that . . . it was deep and grindy . . . it was long and grindy. Don't even have the words . . . it was like riding on a mud slide or lava but warm and slow and just cried . . . like a long cry . . . like a stretched-out long cry . . . it was not out loud, but it was loud and as it was going on the movie was still playing and the woman . . . the character in the movie was dying and screaming out in agony ... at the same time as the orgasming . . . but the orgasm was not from the movie . . . it was just noticed that the two events were happening at the same time . . . which was really odd but not distracting. Laid there after wondering how can one be so lucky. It is so worth the wait for these times, do not Masturbate often, but when it happens, they are becoming amazing events.

Going to go cut a conversation from Facebook that is going on between myself and a person that used to call MyTeacher, his Teacher and see what comes up to respond to him about ...

The person wrote:

The only reason I posted on this thread was because it appeared in my news feed and it was a nice picture of you in India. Then I saw the link to the memorial page. I posted the picture and then thought you would like to see what her boys were up too. I have never disliked you, but I find it irritating that you seem to focus on your dislike of me. Those of us who were in the cult with you and are now free of it rarely even speak about it anymore. For the most part, You and the few who are left there rarely enter my thoughts. If you're

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

curious about why you dislike me, you might look at the interactions about me with three of the individuals in the cult.

I was well aware of that I was being undermined behind my back. It started sometime in 2004 and continued until I left. I am also well aware that after I left I was still the subject of disparaging remarks as people who were there at the time confirmed it to me. I never understood how people who didn't want me there could be so focused on what I was doing after I left. The so-called teacher tried to butt into a personal gathering of friends I was having in my home. I was basically trolled with e-mail innuendos by the so-called teacher, and it almost seemed as if he couldn't help himself. When I was notified that a subpoena had been issued asking for personal e-mail of my friends and myself I was shocked that I would get dragged into a lawsuit that I was not a party too. It was interesting that the list some of us used to communicate did not have a single post for over a year that mentioned the so-called teachers name prior to the group that signed up to help the so-called teacher circle the wagons and tie up any inconvenient loose ends. Because of the harassing subpoena I was put in contact with people who provided more information that I ever cared to know about the details of that lawsuit and the events surrounding it. With the personal experience I had with the cult and the things I have learned since the lawsuit I have lost any shred of respect that I once had for the so-called teacher. Apparently the ground was poisoned for me in the cult, it is pretty transparent to see by those who spent any time there. I don't hate anyone there but these days I prefer to spend my time with real friends in an open transparent and non-gamey environment.

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

There is nothing I can do about your beliefs around me, but since you asked my advice would be to look at the memes you have incorporated in your beliefs. In the end it really doesn't matter to me because I am pretty peaceful with the way my life is these days. Relationships are good, living is good, and I don't have any jealous, manipulative, controlling, backstabbers in my life anymore that I am aware of. So look to yourself and the mirror you're watching and maybe you can see why your feelings are what they are. SWE.

4:20am - Wrote back in response:

You keep making this about others when it is between us. You have turned this entire conversation into something that you would be well served to look at with the Teacher. It is him that you have these issues and concerns with and they sound like they are eating away at you. That you are lost in some kind of paranoia.

Honestly, what is seen when looking back on that whole situation is that you were jealous of him and it seems you still are from your comments. That you wanted to have the kind of life that you thought he had, but you are not the kind of man he is, sometimes we have to face those things in our lives. You are not him. At the Core of you ... Yes ...

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

you are One and the Same but in this world you are not him and only some people get to be that Great. You would have had to lived his entire life ... to be him and you lived “your” life to be you. But your hatred of him ... which is seething through your writing does not serve you. And you have the opportunity while you and he are alive to face these things that make you come off as so ugly.

These things aren't being said to hurt you... they are said cause they are how you are seen from here and call it projection if you like, however, still would like to see you differently and as of right now - just don't. It has been the same since sitting with you on the front porch at MU and was sharing with you that there was an uncomfortableness around you...this had nothing to do with anyone else in the world... this has always been about this relationship with you.

Maybe you do like me, however - you come through as mean spirited, angry and seem to be looking for war. Just from our brief conversation here, you continue to make this about something or someone else and not about us. Keep looking at the things you are saying and wondering what you are even talking about. What is this about murder?

We do have a really great opportunity to clear the air here if you want it. Don't know how, but if it is something that is wanted it will happen.

~Joysters

Don't know if that came off as antagonistic ... really don't like the man ... so this is good to see cause there are very few people that are not liked ... there was one from 5th grade that still comes up and she was very similar in personality ... domineering and mean spirited. It is not that same does not come at times from this one ... but it doesn't seem a way of life - like it seems to be for them ... would say that is the only difference.

AngryB wrote back in response to a post sent yesterday checking in with him to see where his head is at and he sees these actions in regard to *Him* as stalking, thought if it is ... why keep hooking back up ... which he does. (Ed. Note: AngryB is a close Friend of the last 13 years, who many times seems as if he can't stand the presence of this one.)

Yes, also hear *His* Grandfather saying "Leave Him be." And guess it will happen ... leave Him alone and also, since specifically asking Him to Make Me Stop. Since then, things have shifted in that direction, but nothing has changed about the Love and if people see that fearfully ... then that is how it is and what can one do about it but just "Let it Be." Thank you *His* Grandfather. If this life is lived only just Loving on Him from the Inside, it is still a very good life, very good life.

In fact, it might be even more deep and intimate, than if there had been a relationship from the outside.

5:32am - In Meditation, it came up that in this world this one is a plant and government supported Light bulb ... LOL.

2:32pm - It has been a long strange day. Got to the Vet's and watered and then separated and moved wood so that he could put his camper on it.

Then shoveled the Driveway, which is very labor intensive and exhausting, but was really having a good time. Listened to quite a few Quiet Times (recordings of TheTeacher's Speaking) that were mind blowingly good. It is as if it had not ever been heard before. Now there are a few more to transcribe and also add to the website should it ever go up again. They are:

2004 09.16 - All Alone

2003 02.12 -- Each Part is the whole

2007 08.26 QT

2006 04.16 Johnny Mathis

Another post from continuing on from the man who used to share the same Teacher:

Joy, You said that you wished you could feel differently than you do. I responded by giving you some background a couple suggestions of some things to look at in your own life. Apparently you are unable to actually read and understand what I was saying and you have responded to what you thought I was saying. I gave you some background facts. These facts are not attacks or just my opinion. You may actually have 14 or 15 people who agree with you but for the most part you just repeated a bunch of stuff projected on me by someone who never knew me. Those who actually know me and have had personal experience with your little cult and saw through the games and projection actually find this quite laughable in a sad kind of way. If it makes you or the so called teacher feel better to say I am jealous and want to be like someone who I have absolutely no respect for, then go for it. That is just another name that has been used to marginalize me behind my back for years now. You and other inside the little cult box may actually believe it, but that doesn't make it true in any way, after all black is not actually white, and up is not really down, and cold is not really hot, but those in the cult hear a lie long enough and they begin to believe it, but that does not make true in the real world. I don't see any sense in attempting to communicate further with you since you seem unable to respond to the substance of what we are discussing. There is a sense that the air will never be clear between you and I, as long as you are caught up in your little cultish alternative universe. Just one other thing the Spiritual Laxative ..... "No one ever did anything, and there is no statute of limitations on murder" is a Koan."

Responded:

Standing alone here in what is being shared with you and once again this has nothing to do with anyone else. Have not been a member of TheGroup for over a year. Stand alone speaking with you and am saying that you are not liked you. Not because of anyone else or anyone else's opinion of you and again you continue to reinforce this dislike of you. Attempted to share this with you when we were in TheGroup together that you were not easy to be around and that you do not speak with honesty and the above once again is laden with your agenda, not with what is between us.

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

You are the one saying that you have all these people laughing with you and this is exactly the kind of the thing that is still found to be repulsive about you. You use people for your own agenda. The fact that the ones you are implying are around you are the ones that you attempted to "play" teacher with. You do not have people around you that were drawn to you ... you have the camaraderie rejects of TheGroup but not True Friends. And you know this because you have not ever been a True Friend. If you truly wanted genuine people around you, you would begin to look at why this one doesn't like you.

Yuckers still don't like him. Yet know he is a mirror.

(Ed. Note: TheGroup is a group of people that come together around MyTeacher. It was for those that had come to the end of the Spiritual search, which means you already are That which you have been searching for. It was created by MyTeacher back in 1999, through Yahoo Groups as a way to share with one another anything and everything that came up for people in regards to Spirituality and their personal lives).

Geez Louise this is turning out to be a week full ... Just received this from BabyBuddha's wife, seeing whether or not a visit on the trip to Doe Bay was something they were willing to have.

Joy,

I feel compelled to reply to your previous email and the offer to honestly tell you how I feel about the situation.

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

For one, I did take offense to the fact you wrote my husband to tell him about your plans to come up and not forwarding the email to address both of us. The email I received started with his reply to your email on June 26th where he writes "Yes, I received your email about coming out next month." I did feel left out of the conversation that you wanted to have privately with my husband ... maybe I am over reacting, which I admit I do from time to time, but none the less this is how I felt.

On your first visit I was not offered an option of you coming up or not. We had only been married about two weeks and he just told me you were coming up. I didn't get a say one way or another, but I probably would not have said no because I do like to take chances and am an open person. You were a very kind guest and a nice person at heart, but your visit made me uncomfortable which I am sure you picked up on. I tried my hardest to be a good host while you were in our home and get to know you, but the uneasiness never left and stayed weeks later ... I didn't know exactly how I would feel when you came up as I have NEVER been put in a situation like this in the past, but seeing this is not something I can handle. I could see/feel you looking deeply at my husband with love in your eyes and that broke my heart to see. Then his smiling back at you and with you both reminiscing about your past was more than my heart could take. There is a line between friendship and love and your feeling for my husband are love, hands down as your rightfully admitted.

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

As a woman I can see that clear as day which makes me uncomfortable with the situation. If you truly only cared for him as a friend I would have picked up on that and I believe my reaction would have been different.

Second, his comment in the email about you and him having a "past" sexually hot history." was not appropriate. As his wife I really don't want to hear/read how sexually hot his past relationship was and I am sure he doesn't want me to talk about my past "sexually hot" history stories. (which I never would out of respect) See there is a boundary of respect for your mate that should not be crossed and to me this crossed the line. He and I have already had this conversation.

I also do not think it was appropriate for you to talk to him about our sex life in your comment "Also I hope you guys are having hot sex." Again there is a boundary that should not be crossed and our sex life is private between us.

He and I are soul mates and our love is very strong and untouchable by others. I am not "worried" about anyone coming between us. Yes we may have our disagreements, but we are not threatened by you or that you would try to break up our marriage. The fact you had a relationship with my husband is hard to deal with only because of the fact you still love him. Yes I am uncomfortable that you still love him and I feel that you would have liked to rekindle a relationship with him if he were still single ... true? How deep did your relationship go with my husband when you said "My friendship with you ran deeper than the boyfriend/girlfriend thing"...were you planning on getting married, moving in ... Maybe I am missing something? I would appreciate the same honesty that I am bestowing to you now. Also you mentioned "you have stayed in my life as someone important and I do love you" I thought you and he did not keep in contact and this would imply that you have been in contact? So here I am a little confused....Overall, I am not comfortable with your relationship with him and I thank him for taking my feelings into account. As a woman, having been in a similar situation I appreciate your understanding where I am coming from and the boundaries.

Sent the following back comment in purple or Just have our Q for her and A for me in front of the writing ...

A: You were a fine host. Was so tired and grateful to have a place to rest my head - felt badly to not be attentive to you guys and just crashed the first night.

Q: I didn't know exactly how I would feel when you came up as I have NEVER been put in a situation like this in the past, but seeing this is not something I can handle. I could see/feel you looking deeply at him with love in your eyes and that broke my heart to see.

A: Am not "In Love" with your husband. This was the challenge for us in the past (from this point of view, you will have to speak with him for his). We met shortly after my significant other, CesarGomez died. He was very good during a very, very low period of my life. And Love him (period). He was "In Love" and it was not returned in the same way. It was very hard - didn't want to hurt him and didn't want to lose him - just cut him off. Coldly cut him off as what thought - was that the only way to ever be friends again someday was to cut him loose. Could not meet him where he wanted to be met romantically. Would have been horrible to him and could see all of that and there was no way to even say it too him at the time because he would not have believed it.

However, am currently in Love with someone that says exactly the same and do know what it is like from both sides. You have (as you know) an amazing husband and a good man and these are all things known about him and don't want to not know him in life and the same goes with you ... see you both as "one unit." And am not interested in creating disharmony to that but also you can use me to begin to let people in...if you like...you can use this one to gauge your comfort levels. Would like to be in your life like family. You already feel that way from this end. He has felt like family since we met...but he wanted a wife and it felt more like a sister/brother thing from here. Whether this is true for him, he would have to say.

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

Q: Second, his comment in the email about you and him having a "past" sexually hot history." was not appropriate. A: Maybe you two could talk about these things ... someday...maybe not yet but someday not see them as something to fear but something that enhances sex. Sex can enliven your life together and there are so many, many ways to go about it...but it is very good to keep that alive and exciting.

Q: I also do not think it was appropriate for you to talk to him about our sex life in your comment "Also I hope you guys are having hot sex." Again there is a boundary that should not be crossed and our sex life is private between us.

A: Also thought that was an odd comment and in a sense is why it was put it back to him. It is my place to say this ... but you have to feel hot and sexy ... have spent many years not feeling hot and sexy and it is like a slow death ... but something shifted and it's like a kid in me was born and don't always feel hot and sexy...but do a lot now. In fact, feel lucky sometimes that this head is shaved because it keeps men away and women feeling safe around me ... don't do it for those reasons but notice that it works ... used to just gain weight to keep men from not being attracted - but now that is not necessary. Can feel hot and sexy without having to satisfy it.

You can also use sexual energy from others to enhance your own sex life. There are many things to look into on sex and imagine you do and will. From here it seems ... that you will be coming out of your shell in this relationship with him. You have been scared and hurt and the kind of person that has had to be the caretaker ... but you have the time to shine now ... to learn to be in your own skin and like it and you have someone that loves and supports you. So hopefully you both will keep an open line of communication.

Q: He and I are soul mates and our love is very strong and untouchable by others. I am not "worried" about anyone coming between us. A: No. Even if you and he were not together - would not be with him in a romantic way.

Q: How deep did your relationship go with my husband when you said "My friendship with you ran deeper than the boyfriend/girlfriend thing"....were you planning on getting married, moving in ... Maybe I am missing something?

A: No as ... feel like a sister or like family ... maybe even close - don't have to be in your lives by blood ... just would like to be in your lives and knew this years ago when shutting him out. Knew we would be friends again. Solid Friends. Life-long friends. But didn't know how that would happen. It was horrible the way it ended with us and felt terrible for years and it took time to re-connect and hopefully some of what he went through has healed. Gave him an "out" in a way that he could be very angry with for sometime. Was not nice about it. There was no way at the time that one could be nice about it. So this time in-between then and now was just waiting for time to heal things.

Q: I would appreciate the same honesty that I am bestowing to you now. Also you mentioned "you have stayed in my life as someone important and I do love you" I thought you and he did not keep in contact and this would imply that you have been in contact? So here I am a little confused....

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

A: He is brilliant (sure you have noticed) he has been in a down period but it sounds like he is coming out of it. These are all things that were seen in him years ago and look forward to seeing more of. Just stumbled across his CD today actually :o)))) of all things and was like Right On!!!! Want to support his creative growth because he has a seeing of the world that is unique and hopefully he will share it again.

That is what is meant by important - that it is important to know him and to support him and the same goes you. People can help rise each other up. You are talented on the computer and you are a beautiful woman ... maybe he will do some Art around you - would love to see it. And was/am so proud of you for getting those skates on. Would like to see you come out of your shell like that much, much more.

Q: Overall, I am not comfortable with your relationship with my husband and I thank him for taking my feelings into account. As a woman, having been in a similar situation, I appreciate you understanding where I am coming from and the boundaries.

A: Sure ... it is up to you. Would like to be in your lives. Don't feel like a threat but do see how you can see it that way ... the only you will ever know is to be around me or to let me in

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

however you do ... maybe it is just by email for some time...but would like to be your friend also...not just his and hope this email didn't open old wounds with him either. You have always been my Friend first, BabyBuddha.

Hopefully this answered some questions and if there are more am happy to continue this discussion. Don't know how to create a friendship with you guys...but know good people when around them ... takes one to know one and am one :o)))) Would love to have you remain in this life.

~Joysters

This came back from the man who shared the same Teacher ...

Joy, Just more projection. Unless you have some specific allegations about my alleged dishonesty I think my conversation with you is over. I get down on my knees every day in thanks for the genuine people in my life. It's such a refreshing change from the old cult days. Look in the mirror Joy.

The first thoughts that come up "pig vomit!!!!" Ok have had to look at this guy more times than one would like in a lifetime ... but will look again because he keeps pointing it back at "me" and at times there is a feeling dishonesty - would even say there isn't a complete sense of honesty in replying to that letter from (BabyBuddha's Wife) who is concerned about the relationship with her husband because there is sexual energy there ... but it doesn't not have to be fulfilled, in fact, the great gift of being in Love with *Him* is that it won't be. It is like being in "Training" camp and you just get to experience sexual energy without fulfilling it. But how to share that? With "pig vomit" there would be a feeling of being groped all over ... it felt like his hands and eyes were all over me in the grossest way. It doesn't matter if he was the hottest guy in the universe he felt gross. That is what is weird about being called a "stalker," cause He is all over this body when we are together and shares His life ... why would you do that with a "creep stalker?" Anyway ... seems the conversation with "pig vomit" is done again for the moment. He is a whack job and can see why people might be afraid of me ... cause he is nutz- nutz-nutzooooo in my book. Which is how some people see this one.

Just posted to "pig vomit" again d'oh...

The dishonesty that is seen and even back then ... is that you are smarmy. To be around you felt like you were touching or groping with your eyes and it gave vibes of creepiness which made this one not like to be around you. The dishonesty is that you would pretend or be in denial that you are like that. Maybe just embrace your smarminess and you will become a more genuine man.

Funny to pick the word Smarmy ... may have meant swarmy or yuckers - looked up smarmy and it means a "know it all" and have been called that a lot in this life, must be looking in the mirror and seeing pig vomit. Ok am.

And "pig vomit" is a liar...

He writes: People get that feeling from guys with one eye, it's something about the blankness of the blind one. I never once felt a single inclination to grope you in any way and I never made any attempt to be close to you. So unless you have specific allegations of my dishonesty, we're done."

Responded to him: And there is the end of our conversation and your dishonesty."

4:20pm - Well even in music class everyone is joining together to support the differences. It is best to be alone. One of the girls in class who was cheering the other day is now shredding it all to pieces and putting in comments like "I will be standing alone if I don't speak out about the suffering" ...

She writes:

Martin Niemöller (1892-1984) was a prominent Protestant pastor who emerged as an outspoken public foe of Adolf Hitler and spent the last seven years of Nazi rule in concentration camps.

Niemöller is perhaps best remembered for the quotation:

First they came for the Socialists, and I did not speak out-- Because I was not a Socialist.

Then they came for the Trade Unionists, and I did not speak

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

out--Because I was not a Trade Unionist.

Then they came for the Jews, and I did not speak out-- Because I was not a Jew.

Then they came for me--and there was no one left to speak for me.

Responded:

He unknowingly lies like most do ... because he is speaking
... so there is One that speaks for him ... it is him ... he speaks for himself ... that is why we have this writing above. You do not need an army. You have everything you will ever need right now.

5:13pm - Have been hearing the song "Clarity" by Zedd all day today and there were a bunch of 12/31/69 "No Sender" emails and one 7/18/13 came through. Maybe because tomorrow this name will be changed - looked at where Lauren (biological father) was born ... Owosso, MI.

Am tired, but there are things to get done.

CHAPTER THREE

JOY A. STERS

Tuesday, July 30, 2013

“Let it all in, Especially the things you do not want to see about yourself.” ~NTL Tidbit

3:21am - Joy Austin Sters. Last night was spent cleaning the entire apartment ... ok yes it is only two rooms and a bathroom but have vacuumed and mopped and did all the dishes and scrubbed the bathroom, made a loaf of bread out of left over flour in the freezer (soy, almond and rice) and either there are no longer taste buds actively working in this mouth or it came out alright. The crust was crunchy even though it was set to have a light crust ... which ended up good cause Medium would have burned it. The funny thing is that there wasn't a want to do any of these things ... the thought arose to clean out the area where the week before had placed everything that is owned in pile by the front door (to the left, to the left, everything you own to the box to the left - Irreplaceable, Beyoncé) ... want to wait but didn't and cleared it out and have put the Christmas box for HaroldTheAlligator outside and the Dartboard for TheDart ready to go in the car ...

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

then it came up to clean the fridge and freezer and thought “wait till tomorrow” but now knowing that waiting till tomorrow is always a bad idea and found myself cleaning out the fridge and making bread ... also wrote posts to in response to BabyBuddha’s wife’s comments about the visit and wrote a response to “pig vomit” and Music class all during this same time ... whew! Then cleaned the rest of the kitchen and Pete, got a shower as well. Miss a bath so, so, so much. *He* has a bathtub and took one there one time ... He came in and said “you’re taking a bath?” and was like “yes ... don’t have one anymore and miss it so much.” He didn’t get in ... but didn’t rush out. Sometimes it seems like we spent much more time with each other than we did ... or we spent much more time with each other than we remember. So all that got done last night and thank God cause there is nothing in here up for doing it today.

Woke up so sad and grumpy. The song “all I have to give” by the Backstreet boys playing and no idea what time it is ... just laid there and was feeling sorry for myself. Asked TheDart to go with me to his Harold the Alligator’s play and he wrote “I will!” and why he keeps using exclamation points when he texts with me - don’t know, but - don’t like them and asked “what day,” he said, “I don’t know yet, I will tell you when it gets closer.” Said “it is this weekend” and he said, “oh, I will tell you when it gets closer” and the thought here was “fuck you” and got mad also saw I do the exact same thing. Don’t commit to anything and started looking at that ... why not and it comes up that besides Committing to Gatherings there is nothing else really wanted to go to and have to be really sure to be able to do something (which is just bout never), there is a hesitancy to give the verbal word and then possibly break it. Like this whole trip to Seattle ... there is not a strong preference to stay or go - have not committed to Funny or T-Rock or anyone that has checked in for tentative plans. It is not that I don't want to see them ... just don't want the financial hardship - it's not easy to get out of - have no money - right now - have been saving $77 for the name change and to get TLC registered. Have no food and don't get paid until after arriving in Seattle, so would have to use the Credit Card (that Green Machine was just sold to pay off), so there wouldn't be debit and am still $1700 in debit.

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

Am a mess.

Have a car that cannot be driven, again ... but at least there is only one car now and not two.

So today the name will change to Joy Austin Sters and although Joy Lauren is a beautiful name ... Joy Austin Sters makes a smile every time. Got a cold email from MyTeacher yesterday ... whether or not it was cold is hard to say don't know, but it was received coldly and even with that there isn't a want to not change the name. Even if in this world he no longer speaks to me or acknowledges this one as someone cared for ... all those things are still here from the inside.

Love him as mySelf. He is the one person that knows this one

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

completely, not "me" the personality, although he knows that also, but He is Awake/Aware, there are no hidden agendas and so today, God Willing, this name will be different. Am the same no matter what one is called and maybe this name change will reveal that to anyone interested, that it is the same for everyOne. We are not our names, who we are cannot be named, for so long that was only theory, now it is obvious, there is no one in here to have a name. The thing that is named is a ghost, the ghost that said "clean the apartment tomorrow," while the apartment got cleaned. :o)

Went to bed last night still with the idea that the name would not be Sters for long and that it would be His last name soon ... funny that huh. Also the thought to shave this head has appeared but hasn't happened. Was looking at a picture of *His* sister and Mom and Him yesterday and really saw how pretty His sister is, but she makes herself look so ugly on FB, which is odd. She really seems to try to make herself look dark and moody. Would like to know her and don't know why cause there isn't often a want to get to know anyone. There are some people like the BabyBuddha's woman - would very much like them to remain in my life. Would like people like them in this life. People that can be trusted. People that are good spirited and kind hearted and people that help each other rise up. We shall see - don't find it easy to keep people in this life, do ask myself to not be so "weird" ... but myself doesn't listen. It's nice to have a clean apartment. Am scared to go to court. Get scared standing alone ... but sometimes not as scared as when thinking there were people

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

behind me, cause now it is known there are people behind me even though you can't see they are there. Funny huh.

The town that Lauren (biological father) was born in Owosso, MI ... only had a population of 15,000 in 2010, so he grew up in a very small town. It was probably way smaller when he was there. Wonder what it was like to be him. Don't imagine it ever will be will known, unless there is a tapping into the psychic stuff ... which is always possible but usually comes up not to. Really did not understand or "get" my parents for a very long time. It is probably a good idea to remove teenagers from the home. Glad it happened with both RebelYell and TheDart, more so with TheDart because he went away to school and RebelYell would have probably been way more self-sufficient if he had lived with someone else during his teen years. A mother's love can be suffocating and controlling and we think we are doing our best for our children but what we do is keep them dependent on us. It was very good for us both and would have been much better for RebelYell ... he is doing ok though. Strange phenomena happens a lot around teenagers. Not bad or anything like that. It would be cool to trade your teenagers ... you know something like they get to live with your friends and you take on one of their kids ... it keeps it from getting dark. Teenagers can be dark ... not bad ... just dark.

"Pig Vomit" sent this in:

Thank you for being honest about your hatred of me. I know

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

exactly where it comes from. After all the con always hates the mark. I wish the best to for you Joy.

What he says is true and probably ... yes is true in this situation, but it doesn't come through as "true" from him ... maybe it is just because one is blinded by the dislike of him. Still would love to see this resolved. Maybe it is happening without having to do anything ... there is nothing here to fight back on with this right now. Don't care if he sees anything ... it's been seen here. Am just like "Pig Vomit" (gross) but am ... Have wanted to be the teacher ... have wanted to be seen as something great ... and have tried to make these things happen (seemingly), can be sneaky and deceitful ... don't know about swarmy, but guess if it can be seen ... in another, it can be seen in here and it is seen it in a lot of apparent others. It comes up a lot around those that want something, but don't ask . . . just try to get it.

The thing is there is clarity here now. Not trying to be anything ... just watch as it is revealed. And maybe "Pig Vomit" will someday too ... maybe he already does or has (doesn't feel like it) but maybe. These could all just be false beliefs about everything . . . am willing to be wrong to see. Don't like it ... but am willing. Who likes to be wrong and smarmy anyway, lol.

Owosso is only 1 ½ hours from Detroit. And 5 hours from Indiana and look what is on the FB from Indiana (am still on their page - signed up when thinking TheDart would be going there) sent a copy to TheDart and HaroldTheAlligator.

Stanford is #1 (looking back one can see that maybe if there was the ability to like life or gotten it together sooner ... TheDart could have been at Stanford ... cause he already was being accepted to participate in their programs ... just couldn't seem to be able to get this act together at the time or just didn't).

Will Doe Bay happen and will T-Rock be seen? Will the name change today? Will there be time spent with Funny hanging out in Portland or will the Dome get finished with TheVet? So many unanswered things just about everything is unanswered. Will He ever come around? Will the cops? Will there be a graduation from COS? Will anything ever come before "me." EveryThing Does ... Though it is not a thing and there is no "me." Alan Watts is so amazing ... The Dream of Life.

Ok am going to Seattle.

Yesterday was listening to a QT where MyTeacher mentions Johnny Mathis and how he is openly gay and so just sent that in to Music. He spoke about the first time he heard 12th of

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

Never in Japan and literally felt like being there seeing it with him, in a broader view than being a person but as a full experience of the whole view of the Cherry Blossom Tree and the green grass and this song just coming through the air ... it was very good. It is on the QT dated 2006 04.16.

Took this picture the other day when feeling strong and sexy.

:o)

Here is what was sent to Music....

Johnny Mathis is openly gay and one of the most beautiful and romantic singers of this century. When hearing his music it doesn't seem he is singing to a man or a woman but to life itself. Was lucky enough a few years ago to get to see him perform live and he is even more amazing in person.

He has many, many amazing songs my favorite being 12th of Never, made a video of with a friend that was met at 6 Flags that lives in a tank.

He was quoted as saying the following:

In a 1982 Us Magazine article, Mathis was quoted as having said, "Homosexuality is a way of life that's been grown accustomed to." Us Magazine later retracted the statement. After more than 20 years of silence on the subject, Mathis revealed in an interview, in 2006, that his silence was because of death threats he received as a result of that 1982 article. On April 13, 2006, Mathis granted a podcast interview with The Strip in which he talked about the subject once again, and how some of his reluctance to speak on the subject was partially generational.

If you are interested in reading more about him you can do so here:

5:31am - Noticed while reading today's Spiritual Vitamin before Meditation, that today showed up as July 30th (7/30), which totals the number 10, have always seen that number as representing perfection, not as becoming perfection, but what one truly is ...

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

Perfect . . . perfection as no thing ... which is why there is so much love for the email address joyfully10 because it is joyfully perfect nothingness. So the name will reflect that. And today's Spiritual Vitamin does also:

“There is that which I call the "essential experience." The essential experience is that moment of nothingness. It is that moment of no- thing-ness - no family, no god, no world, no experience. It is akin to deep dreamless sleep. It cannot be reviewed by the mind because the mind was absent, thus it could not participate. It cannot be recaptured or sought after or pleaded to a god for, because it can't be gotten in any way. It is a gift, a gift to itSelf. We cannot try to do it or have it again because we had nothing to do with receiving it in the first place. It comes to the beggar, as well as the rich man, the dying, as well as the healthy, the tyrant, as well as the saint. It is a mystery.”

5:46am - Do not think Pete will make it to Seattle. Wonder if HaroldTheAlligator and TheDart would have him stay with them.

6:13am - There probably is no one better to gather together and create “Talks: The Early Years” than this one since having read “First There Is a Mountain \(FTIAM\)” so many times that instantly the duplications are seen lol. That is nice though. It is very good reading myTeacher’s Writings. Was listening to a QT yesterday while working at theVet’s, where MyTeacher was speaking about how QT and TheGroup are his work (but not really) and that it is so wonderful for one to do what they Love, and at the time that he was originally speaking that it certainly was not the case for this one ... but now that it has happened here ... it is so wonderful. When just about everything you do ... you Love. Life is so different now. Even my misery is Loved.

Just wrote to a Friend whose recently had a suicide attempt and shared with her that if her son would like to be my Friend on FB he is welcome to and since having 3 suicide attempts as well, he will at least have someone that knows how dark it can get. Sent her a link to "The Voice." :o)

7:32am - This just came up on Facebook:

Gangaji Community

To realize that you have the choice to stop telling your story of suffering is a great freedom. Then it may serve you to tell it to correct a great injustice, but you also have the opportunity in a moment stop and be free.

LOL of all things ... am trying to learn how to make App for Apple and Android.

8:10am ok ... the day is beginning. Wish me luck lol.

8:38am - Had some thoughts about shaving the head thought it didn't seem it would happen - but it did - buzzed it ... am not bald - no good razors to shave with.

9:14am - Am bald. It really doesn't matter what you think about anything. Am scared and yet empty inside. Odd conundrum. :o)

HaroldTheAlligator called and said he would most likely keep

Pete.

There is a tiredness here.

9:32am - Packing and will be on the road in ½ hour ... why this seems such a big deal at this moment ... not sure. No FB access from Him yet.

Ok. Eeek!

7:13pm - Joy Austin Sters. Yep that's the name ... in this world that is now the name answered to. Who'd a thunk it ... besides MyTeacher ... though he might not now want it, which is weird to do it even though he said he is not for it ... to have someone's name that really doesn't want you to have it and yet every time it just comes up as a form of Honor. May this life reflect highly on His.

Today was insane!

Shaved the head ... went downstairs to load up TLC and it seriously looks like we are moving out, even tried to attempt to get the bike in TLC but Edibles (who was downstairs and offered up some). He asked to borrow TLC to go to Medford said he would his truck for TLC for the day to bring the bike down to Yreka ... was like ... don't think so it's not street legal don't have tags on it (went to register it and found out $1700 is still owed because it was bought in Oregon where there are no taxes but was trying to register it in California where there are.

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

Get Pete and everything else packed in TLC and head out. My Brother calls while pulling away. Stop at the Post Office to see if the sneakers came (didn't). Yapped all the way down to Yreka ...he sounds good ... says that everything got changed around about the house and everyone is getting the same (our Mother's house is being sold in NJ). Believe it when it is seen, but it came up a few times, that if it doesn't happen ... so what. If it did come through ... would either pay off TLC and give it to Him or would buy a home and use that for the down payment. Really think it is cool that the house that TheVet said to call about renting said he was selling, cause its a really nice place and it is the perfect setting, it is close to MyTeacher and TheLionAtTheGate and TheVet and then if *He* ever hooked up ... his son could go to School in Etna...the Lion's. :o) Get down to Yreka and took out the $25 to pay for the name change docs at Raley's...then went to bring TheDart the custom Dartboard made for CesarGomez.

Asked TheDart if he wanted it for college and he was so happy about that ... brought it and all of the Christmas Decorations that were in CesarGomez's Container (have very few things left of his). Gave TheDart CesarGomez's Intel ID and the motorcycle key, and the Yankees Keychain.

Today had CesarGomez's Yankee's hat with, TheDart's wallet, TheTeacher's bracelet, TheLionAtTheGate's Necklace, Daniel Blue and the Doe Bay Writers' necklace, *His* hand written directions to His home and CesarGomez and Harold the Alligator's T-shirt (the African Face one). Felt surrounded by their Love to change the name ... not change the name to get away from anything ... just because. Get to TheDart and he see's TLC and is like "nice" :o) That brought up happy vibes. Then he saw this head ... not nice. :o( He said what did you do ... you're all cut up. Said crappy razors (and know not to use cheap razors ... said that last time ... no more cheap razors on the head) he touched this head and it felt so good ... like sooo, soooo good it hurt and was hot, didn't realize it until he touched it.

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

Then his friends were coming and he was like don't come up here and could tell he was embarrassed. He went out cause he heard a car and went out behind him not thinking and waved. He turned around and was like oh ... dang didn't know you were behind me and could tell he wished that his friend didn't seen. So TheDart gets a hat (which is being worn right now ... currently in Starbucks and the A/C is cold burrrrskis) he said to put it on (it's a winter Chargers beanie :o) was like "really?" and he is like "yeah, my friends are out there." Said ok ... let me use the bathroom and will put it on and get out of here. Get in the bathroom and there is blood all down the right side of the head (went to the grocery store like that) all down the ear, look like a slaughtered pig. :o( Had bumps and cuts all over ... that razor (2 of them ... new ones) tore this head up ... can't even believe that it's shaved and then to do such a butcher job on it.

Grrrrr ... :o)

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

Cleaned up and have TheDart check to make sure there is not anymore blood ... he says there isn't. Head out the door ... he says can I check out the Caddy ... was like ... sure thing!!! He says, damn it goes to 160 is it fast? Said it is, want to try it and he like Yes! So he got in and we took it just around the apartment complex ... that was nice.

Went and brought the package of clothes that for that young man starting 7th grade and wouldn't you know their address is the same apartment that had been checked out in May with the odd owner. The window was broken and there was wood that was filling in where the window had been. Didn't knock ... had thought to but didn't ... just left the bag on the step and got back in TLC and drove away ... no one saw or it didn't appear that way and it felt good that way as well. It is a nice outfit and hope it fits. Had it in the Meditation area for the last 2 weeks so it has super good vibes. :o)

Left and went to Greenhorn Park and let Pete run around and called my brother back cause we got cut off coming down the mountain ... people were smoking pot in the park and there was a hippie van out front with a super cute guy and immediately thought of *Him* ... of course ... all super cute guys are reminders of the SuperCuteGuy . . . that is not mine.

Pete runs off and find him with a woman that has bumps of some kind all over her nose and mouth (they sort of look like moles or warts but there are bunches of them) it is strange to

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

see, but then so is this head all chopped up and bald. We chat they said they gave Pete Chicken to eat. Said great (not) he doesn't usually eat chicken (he had a chicken as a friend) but now he probably won't leave you guys because you gave him that. Actually had to almost pull Pete out of there ... in fact, carried him away. The thought "should have left him" appeared - but didn't and we got back in TLC and head over to the court house where a car just like TLC was and went pulled in behind it to take a picture and saw that it is a CTS not and STS. Went to take a picture and there was a girl in it and asked ... "do you mind a picture being taken of your car?" and she said "ok but it is dirty" ...

“Whose your Caddy?” Heh.

It comes up quite often that He wanted the CTS (the front car) and that the wrong car (TLC) was bought. Got to the courthouse and sat for Meditation ... couldn't find my name on the board and asked a few people and they were all like we are on break for four more minutes so check back and the funny thing was in four minutes it would be afternoon

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

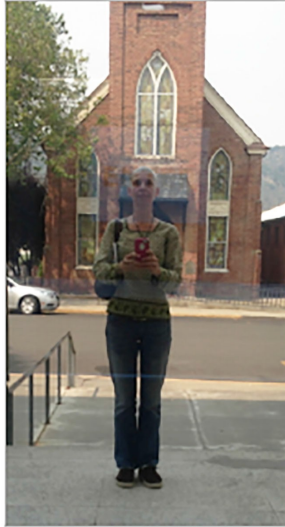

Meditation so it didn't matter and sat for a ½ hour attempting not to look to out of the norm (yeah right ... bald chick with eyes closed and Bindi on). It was super peaceful and then it was 1:30p.m. time for court. Found the room on the board (which was weird cause it didn't seem to be there before).

Get in the room and it's about a ½ hour before the temporary fill in judge enters ... and it is someone from the past , and was glad to see her. She is a friendly woman and she was very kind. MyTeacher was emailing about "pig vomit" while waiting to be called to appear - that was nice, it was like he was actually there. Then the case was called and she asked if the name was to be changed to Austin like it was in the paper "Austin" with parenthesis around it Said no ... but maybe should have said yes lol. She said some paper was missing and that it would have to be filled out and brought back and thought she meant the next day but she said "no, we can do it today ... it might just take a while". Went out and walked Pete around ... he was tired and a mean dog jumped a fence trying to attack him. Had to yell at the dog and then bang on the guys door who was playing good tunes (Janet Jackson) if remembering correctly. He finally answered the door after a ton of knocks ... he looked like a weird guy (pot calling the kettle black?). Told him his dog was loose ... he said thanks and kept going. Walked down the road and saw that the church on the corner is St. Mark's and had thought the one in front of the courthouse was St. Mark's. Went over and checked it out and "come on now" the church is named St. Joseph's ... so while walking back in the courthouse took a picture with St. Joseph in the background...

First Picture as Joy Austin Sters.

Got back in and the girls were super nice and typed up the document after a typo messed it up and they ran it upstairs to get signed (which was super nice) and came back and it was done. The name change is official. Emailed MyTeacher and TheLionAtTheGate ... they are the only ones now besides the girl at Starbucks that just asked how my day was, and shared with her that the name had changed to Joy Sters. :o)

Drive around Yreka looking for the Social Security office to change the name on the card and can't find it ... and look it up on Google and it says it is on Oregon Street and had already been having thoughts to go up to Him (He lives in Oregon) ... so then upon seeing Oregon Street just watched as TLC got on the Freeway ... don't know if it was because of that ... cause it seems it would have happened anyway but it was noted that there was just a watching of this happening.

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

No name change there ... stopped at the Ext 6 ramp on the I-5, and went to the spot where there is a lake and the land for sale and laid a blanket down. Pete snagged in ... put TheTeacher's pic up and Read the Vitamin for the day and closed these eyes and it was so nice. Upon coming out of Meditation and opening these eyes there amazingly spectacular Crane standing on the pier on the other side ... it was so regal looking and beautiful. Read up on it and it says it is one of the oldest birds on the planet and thought of Marma. It says it represents Marriage and Loyalty and Eternal Youth and Trusting the Universe and just all these really cool things and just sat there for like 15 minutes just looking at this bird...

Can you see him he blends in with the dock.

Then a wondering if it will fly ... out of the corner of the eye comes

LIFE HAPPENING ...

another one ... grab the video camera and start recording these two birds dancing in the sky around all around us... it is amazing and start to cry, so touched by the honor and beautiful of such timeless creatures.

They leave we head back on the road. Pete ...

Am out of gas and am now having to spend all the money saved to register TLC on gas . . . just about completely broke until next month.

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

Drive past *His* home and He is there and am so happy and her (His roommate) car is in front of His ... had thoughts of just pulling in and sitting in front with the directions He wrote out to His home and texting and saying "I'm outside" but didn't ... went to Costco ... there was a couple standing outside with a baby and a sign up said need gas and are hungry ... they looked like kind people - gave them a $5 dollar bill. Thought to go back and give them my $20 - but didn't.

Went to get gas and the debit card wouldn't work cause there is only $70 dollars in the account and guess you need more than that to get gas. Go in Costco ... oh cause strange thing ... got to Raley's Grocery and realized had forgotten all the credit cards. Left them all in the TheGroup Foundation canister at the apartment. That is also when it was realized that TLC would not be registered ... didn't even have the American Express to get into Costco (membership card) had to get a temporary and then walked past a bow section and they had beautiful Red Ribbon and thought ... Him?

(There's an image of giving Him TLC with a red ribbon). Grabbed it and also got grapes that were way cheaper than normal and go pay and ask how to get gas? The guy says, "you can buy a gift card" and do and he says, "thanks for the $50 would have taken you out for cocktails" and then he said, "or ice cream," and then he said, "or whatever you can have." And thought that was really weird. Put $50 in the tank which

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

didn't even fill it and drove past that couple again and asked them if they would like some grapes cause their sign said hungry ... and they said yes and so took a handful out of the package and gave them all the rest. Was sort of bummed cause they were yummy and now have only nuts and no other food and no money ... maybe soon will have a sign that says "Hungry."

Left and went to Starbucks ... thought to go to Him but am so tired and yet so happy to be close. The plan ... whether it works this way or not is yet to be seen, but the plan is to go to the sleeping spot around the corner from His home and dance on the baseball field for a long time and smoke and be close. So although the name has changed ... have not changed anything document wise and am broke and cannot afford to register the car now and am completely illegal and yet am driving TLC (a badass Caddy) and sipping Soy Latte like a princess ... Princess Sters. Oy Vey! :o)

Oh, oh this is funny during court someone said something to the lawyer and she was like this is Ms. Blah, Blah, Blah and thought what the last name now with as Ms. in front of it ... Ms. Sters ... will be this name now - started cracking up ... Ms. Sters. Like a Mister. Don't know why but it was really funny at the time.

So once again ... am either heading out to dance or to jail for sitting in front of His home waiting to be taken in.

LIFE HAPPENING ...

On The Way To Doe Bay

8:22pm - One more thing, just looked up the meaning of Sters as a last name and there doesn't seem to be any with an "s" on the end but this is what came up for "Ster" link. There is even an English Crest.

Ha! Who'd a thunk it ... and figures it would take actually having the name changed to look anything up on it. Says it means Star ... am a Joy Star :o) My dad said my mother was really a spirit named Cypress and it now seems to fit as a Joy Star. :o)
